

Cecilia R. Edwards
Event Facilitator

Cecilia R. Edwards is on a mission to help people realize their potential to change the world and to equip them to do so. She is experienced in driving business value through the use of next-generation IT, business processes, and alternative delivery models.

With her 25+ year strategy background, Cecilia has led panels involving corporate leaders, politicians and government leaders, community leaders, and philanthropists to cooperate on key societal issues. She has operated multi-day workshops with senior leadership teams with the objective to work on joint transformation strategies and has significant experience facilitating discussion groups, driving them towards co-designed, constructive solutions.

As Partner at Everest Group, Cecilia co-hosted a monthly podcast focused on the realities of delivering business results in the digital era, sharing insights gained from supporting digital transformations.
