

Armando Regil Velasco

CEO of i2CO: School of Transformative Leadership and Founder of IPEA

Armando is the founder and CEO of i2Co: School of Transformative Leadership. He also founded IPEA, the first Mexican youth think tank and action group dedicated to promoting freedom in Mexico.

He is the CEO of Data Disrupt for Systems Transformation, an artificial intelligence and megadata company created to lead and inspire the transformation of data systems into intelligent solutions for businesses, governments, and civil society organizations.

His expertise in leadership and geopolitics led to his selection as one of the 50 Shapers from around the world to attend the World Economic Forum's annual meeting in Davos in 2016. He was also selected as one of the Ten Potential Leaders in Mexico by American Express.

He has published three books:

- You are the answer: A vision of leadership for young entrepreneurs
- One million youngsters for Mexico: An agenda of Liberty and Co-responsibility
- (RE)invent Yourself: The Power to (RE)set, (RE)imagine everything and Co-create
